

To all users of the University of Illinois Keck Center microarray facility.

This notice is to inform you that as of August 2010 we will no longer provide microarray printing services. Recent advances in microarray synthesis and sequencing technologies now provide higher quality products and data. We have been providing custom printing services for over 10 years however as the technologies advance to higher throughput and resolution as well as flexible formats, custom printing is quickly become less efficient. For all users of the Honeybee printed microarrays with current supply agreements, we will have a limited supply of printed arrays in stock to meet present contracts and allow extension of current projects. Please contact us as soon as possible to let us know of requests for additional arrays.

We will continue to offer services for Affymetrix, Agilent, Illumina, and Nimblegen technologies.
